Convention Bill.

AN ACT to provide for a Convention of the people of the State of Mississippi.

Sec. 1. Be it emeted by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, That an election for delegates to a concention of the people of the State of Mississippi, shall be held in the several counties thereofy on Thursday, the twentieth day of December, 1860, and that said election shall be held at all the precincts established by law, and shall be managed and conducted by the Sheriffs or other proper officers of the counties respectively, in the same manner, and according to the same rules and regulations, as are prescribed by law for the election of members of the Legislature. For a long time he had seen the storm which was now imminant; he had watched it from the election of members of the Legislature. And it is hereby declared to be the duty of the Governor to issue his proclamation to the several Sheriffs of the State at least ten days be fore the time appointed for holding said election, requiring them to hold and conduct the same according to law, and the said Sheriffs shall advertise the time and place of holding said election. He had examined the issue carefully.

Our Northern brethren had been warned said elections for five days by publication in the saids to accept the issue; they tion, requiring them to hold and conduct the same according to law, and the said Sheriffs shall advertise the time and place of bothing said election for five days by publication in the several newspapers of their respective counties and by posting notices at four public places in their counties.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted. That each county shall be represented in said convention by the same number of delegates as such ces in their counties.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted. That each county shall be represented in said convention by the same number of delegates as such that the House of the House. tion by the same number of delegates as such county has of Representatives in the House of Representatives, including the representation of any city or town in any county.

SEC. 3. Re it further enacted, That any person shall be eligible to the said convention, who shall at the time of the election, be a citizen of the State of Mississippi, and above the age of twenty-one years. Provided, That each delegate shall have resided in the county from which he is elected for four months immediately prior to the session of the convention, and been a citizen of the State for twelve months prior thereto.

and when that failed, he returned to his sovereign and adopted State his withdrawn esteem, and he would follow the destiny of Mississippi, let the consequences be what they might. He was no submissionist.

At the conclusion of Col. Sharp's eloquent speech, Hon. J. R. Burrus, moved that Messrs. Jno. Simmons, R. H. Picket, Stephen Luse, and Henry Vaughan, Sr., be requested to act as Vice Presidents.

On motion of Col. W. R. Hill, a committee of the country for the resident of the convention, and been a citizen of the State for twelve months prior thereto.

Meeting in Yazoo.

The largest and most enthusiastic meeting ever convened in Yazoo county, assembled at the Court House on Saturday, the 17th inst. —irrespective of former political associations or party ties-to take into consideration the current dangers by which the South is threatshed. The singular unanimity which pre-vailed throughout the entire meeting surpris-ed every one, when they recurred to the exeitement of the late canvass.

The meeting was called to order by Hon.

Hon. R. S. Holt was loudly called for. He too knew no party; there were but two political banners now in the sky; the one moved under the auspices of fanatichem, aggression, sectionalism; the other was guided still by the rays of Constitutional light; it was controlled by a destiny that would maintain its rights in the Union, if it could—out of it, if it wast. Intelligence had been borne to us that our sister States of the South were preparing for resistance to the disgrace of Republican rule, and he of Mississippi who did not sympathize with the feeling, was recreant to the instincts of Southern patriotism. He was from which mankind suffer over a large past of the globe, is the consequence of a discased action in the system, induced by the poisonass miams of vegetable decay. This exhalation is evolved by the action of solar heat on wat coll, and riess with the watery vapor from it. While the san is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungainto the blood. There is acts as an irritating paison on the internal viscers and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to searete not only this virus, but also the ble from the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spicen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and brechne disordered also. Finally, the intained of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the naxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This the central organs with congrestive violence. This is the Cettal. But in this effort it fails. Then the is the Cittal. But in this effort it fails. Then the Friend follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through that other great exerctory—the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandors the alternate exhausted, and waits for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or purchasers of Fevra and Adue. Such constitutional disorder will of course underline the health if it is not removed.

We have labored to find, and have found, an entidate.
